Merchant marine movements consist of the usual Trieste- Flume service with the boats MAKARSKA and RAVINJ, each of 350 tons.

- 8. The old forts of Pola are being equipped with turrets and some artillery pieces. The forts are being garrisoned b small groups of sailors.
- S. Hangars and shops are being built on the Altura airfield of Pola. The field is being extended. At present there are about 20 planes on the field; eight are training ships, one is a Soviet pursuit plane, and there are a few Spitfires as well.
- 10. The Vallelunga powder magazine in Pola is working at full capacity. It has notable quantities of ammunition for small and medium caliber artillery and for machine guns. There is also a large quantity of hand grenades. The powder magazine is garrisoned by a company of soldiers.
- 11. On Via Roma there is a gasoline depot which has a capacity of about 20,000 tons of gasoline and kerosens. It is located across the street from the school gymnasium.
- 12. Most of the troops stationed in Pola are billeted in the barracks which were formerly called the Mazario Sauro barracks.
- 13. The arsenal at Pola has large signs at the entrance. One of these signs gives data on production for the month the percentage of work normally done, the percentage of work actually done, discipline and volunteer work, participation at all meetings, and material saved. All figures are in percentages.
- 14. The director of the arsenal is the engineer Leontic, a Navy commander.

  Professor Einari, an Italian from Verona, directs the chemical laboratory.

  About 60 Yugoslav officers supervise the various sections and shops.

  At present the arsenal employs 486 workers.
- 15. The metallurgical shop is at full working capacity repairing arms and taking parts from those not suitable for repair. At present Italian Fiat machine guns, submachine guns, 81 and 88 mortars, and rifles are being repaired. There is a great deal of work and it is sure to last for many more months.
